Micro J Systems, Inc. version 7.5 software upgrade feature set announcement

Version 7.5 for PcHunter and Tempus Fugit users to Arrive Soon; Micro J's 7th Generation of Excellence Continues!

SANTA MONICA, California (January 8, 2003) Micro J Systems, Inc. will begin shipping the latest Micro J software product upgrade, 7.5, in the beginning of 2003. This software upgrade contains exciting new tools and enhancements for corporate and third party recruitment and staffing professionals who rely on Micro J software products to manage the recruitment process.

Feature Summary:

A new section of program help with context sensitive information for every screen now offers users quick access to user help topics that are explained in a friendly tutorial style with comprehensive visual cues, links to relative information, and a special icon to enter Micro J's MppOnline secure support site. MppOnline contains, downloads, white papers and the online Knowledgebase & FAQ library where users get answers 24/7. Other features including, e-mail enhancements, and built-in email client upgrade in v7.5 continue to make marketing and recruiting with email easier for Micro J 's users.

Plus, a new calendar tool, and a quick online address mapping link bring higher efficiency to tasks. And by popular demand, introducing new Company Merge Wizard, an administrative utility that easily combines two companies, their employees, and all relative data and documents in just a few clicks of the mouse. The version 7.5 software upgrade also includes a new pull down menu where users can select from optional software add-on modules. The first integrated add-on module offered for version 7.5 is the Outlook SNAP Module from Micro J. Outlook SNAP allows users to create or update an MS Outlook contact directory from a Micro J database contact list. The Outlook SNAP Module sells separately for customers who use the MS Outlook program.
